BIO

Bond Henry is a Chicago country and Americana singer-songwriter who writes every song he sings. His music mixes classic country storytelling with a rock-and-roll edge, in songs about working people, small-town pride and hard-earned love, from the barroom stomp of "Night Train" to "The Poor Man's Dollar (The Ballad of Donald Lee)," which he released with an animated short film.

His single "What's Your Name" aired on 93XRT's Local Anesthetic in September 2026, and his music was featured on BIG 95.5's Backyard Country in 2020. In October 2026 he played Red Barn Radio at LexArts in Lexington, KY. His new single "Girl Dad," a song about fatherhood, came out November 1, 2026. He wrote and produced it and recorded it at Gravel Road Studios in Chicago. Before going solo, Bond fronted the Chicago band Sons of Mary, which played rooms including House of Blues Chicago.

Bond performs as a solo act on vocals and acoustic guitar, and on November 23, 2026 he brings his songs to WDVX's Blue Plate Special in Knoxville, TN. He is independent and self-managed.
